Advocate for the Homeless

Sunday, February 10, 10:15 a.m. – noon

Kate Budd, executive director of Council for the Homeless, will show a video about challenges homeless women face, and then share some ways we can become advocates for those who live on the edge. We will learn about some issues before our legislature, and the ways we can be the most effective with our time and our funds. This is an interactive event open to men, women, and teens.

In support of this presentation, we are accepting donations of feminine hygiene products.
